A Word from Jussi Tähtinen, CEO

A strong execution of strategy

We are moving forward with execution of our strategy, that consists of two key operations: 1) Self-publishing a portfolio of mobile games, based on our own IPs and 2) Offering our development services to other companies in the industry. During the third quarter we have had good progress on both tracks.

We released "Medals of War" in 77 countries on Apple iPhone and iPad in the end of September. Our launch was supported by visibility in the Apple App Store through featuring in 18 countries, including United States. We also gained a user review score average of 4,5 / 5 stars. This means that we have had a good start for the game in the western markets. The western markets are our focus geos for self-publishing our new portfolio. Our goal is to enter other markets through territorial partners with strong expertise on those markets. We signed a term sheet, and later in October, the agreement, with Netmarble EMEA for introducing Medals of War to Turkish and Arabic speaking audiences. Netmarble also has a right of first refusal for Medals of War in Asian markets.

We have three key pillars in our operations: Portfolio approach, our proprietary technology NG Platform and our MVP-process. We have a very specific focus with our portfolio, as we are building real-time multiplayer games for the mid-core category on mobile with free-to-play business model. During the third quarter, we've continued working with our MVP-process to enable future launches from our portfolio, following Medals of War. Our goal is to launch two games yearly. We utilize our MVP-process in market testing several games at very early stages of development. We benchmark the MVP games against each other, as well as against our previous games and industry standard data. This is how we developed Medals of War. This approach is supported and made possible by our technology NG Platform. We are also receiving R&D support from Tekes to further develop our platform.

During Q3 on the service side of business, we were focused in a mobile game production we are developing with Wargaming. After the interim period we announced we have agreed on a project scope increase with Wargaming on this project, resulting in approximately 0.4 MEUR increased revenue for us.

During 2017 we've seen an increase in revenues. Compared to 1-9 / 2016, our revenues increased 58% from 759 KEUR to 1 199 KEUR. During the Q3, the revenues were 411 KEUR compared to 149 KEUR in 2016 (176 % increase).

Third quarter wasn't solely about working hard though. In September we celebrated our 10 years anniversary. I'm very proud to be part of this team that's come a long way from the beginning. We're now stronger than ever and looking forwards to another decade of awesomeness!
